FRIDAY 30th JANUARY 2026

This week, I have enjoyed visiting our local shops and businesses to introduce myself and our school. Building strong links with our local community is really important to us, and it has been lovely to begin strengthening those relationships.

Thank you to everyone who continues to order school meals via ParentPay. Ordering meals at home helps to save valuable learning time in school and supports smooth daily routines for both pupils and staff.

In assembly this week, pupils took part in a road safety awareness session, learning how to stay safe in and around our community.

Teaching and learning remain our top priority. The introduction of no hands up and partner talk strategies has already increased participation in lessons, ensuring that all pupils are actively involved and confident to share their ideas.

Our focus for next week will be transitions from break and lunch, with an emphasis on calm and efficient routines. Pupils will be supported to enter classrooms quietly, settle promptly, and be ready to begin learning straight away. We would really appreciate your support at home by reinforcing these expectations with your child. Have a lovely weekend — and who knows what the weather may hold next week!
